

We have taken advantage of the services provided by Advanced Underwriting Consultants (AUC) for seven years now.

Their services have included help with many of our complex cases. They are available when we need them. Their response is timely and always very helpful. The peace of mind our top producers may experience when dealing with such cases has been invaluable.

Our producers often look to AUC for technical clarification and assistance on certain case scenarios. In my opinion, AUC's real value is the consultants anticipate issues, they may point out areas of potential concern that the agent may not have thought about yet. To have that extra level of expertise available to our agents has been great.

The teams of consultants at AUC are sales oriented professionals and have been instrumental time and time again in helping us close new business with the quality of clients we want.

Our agents have unlimited access every day by phone or email seeking technical clarification and advice on any aspect in the advanced sales arena.

Linas Sudzius has also been available to participate in our meetings. He offers a dynamic platform that engages participation from our producers and offers years of experience to educate and motivate our sales team.

We have utilized our relationship with Advanced Underwriting Consultants as a tool in recruiting top producing agents. Agents have responded favorably to this additional resource provided by AUC.

Don't hesitate to take advantage of the services they provide. You will see in a short period of time why our agents use AUC!

Garth Garlock
Sales Vice President
Chief Marketing Officer
North American Company for Life and Health Insurance
525 West Van Buren
Chicago, Illinois 60607